Module 2

Preferencing

Module 2 – Preferencing Introduction

Is Preferencing mandatory?

Preferencing is not mandatory, however completing preferencing allows you to provide information on where you would most like to be allocated to complete your Clinical Placements.

Will I be able to see how many people have placed first preferences for each Clinical Unit?

No, this information is not available in real time within the Placements system. However, in previous years the Faculty have published a daily report which outlines how many students have preferenced each Clinical Unit and at the request of the larger student body, we will continue to do so in 2022 for 2023 allocations.

Students should be aware that these reports are potentially misleading, since they are current only at the time of production, while students will continue to preference throughout the preferencing period. Student feedback has also indicated that modifying your preferences based on how many others have also preferenced a particular Clinical Unit may, in some cases, impact negatively on your chance of getting your desired outcome.

Therefore, the Faculty recommend that students do not try to 'game the system' - you should submit your preferences based on the actual order of where you would like to be placed.

Module 2 - Placement Blocks

What are Placement Blocks?

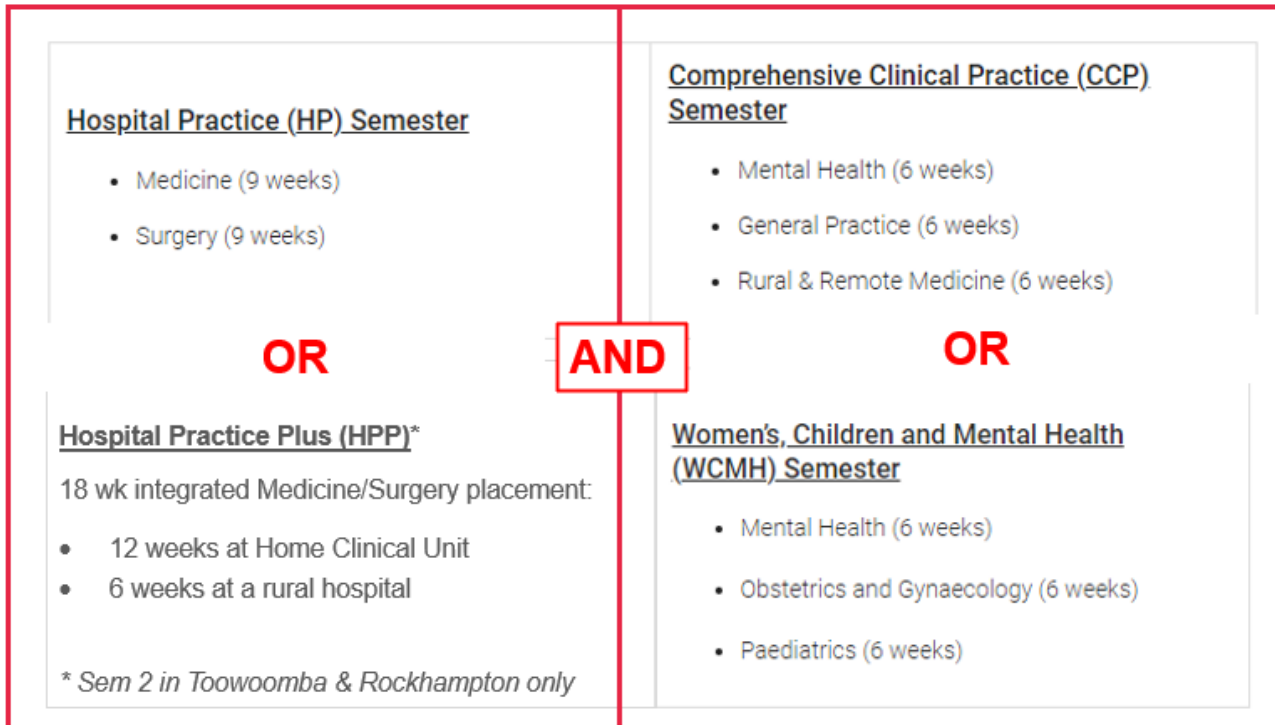

Placement Blocks are complimentary Clinical Placements that have been grouped together in a semester.

What are the Placement Blocks for Year 3 Students?

The Placement blocks that Year 3 students will complete are:

Note: RCS students can preference for HP or HPP. All students can preference CCP or WCMH. The order of the Placements within each Semester will all depend on which Pathway you have been allocated. Students are not able to preference on semester block order, only which semester/s they would like to undertake.

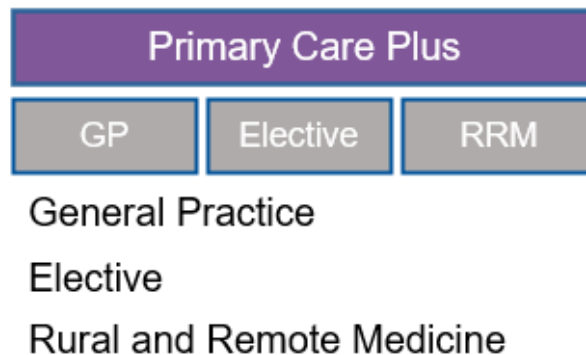

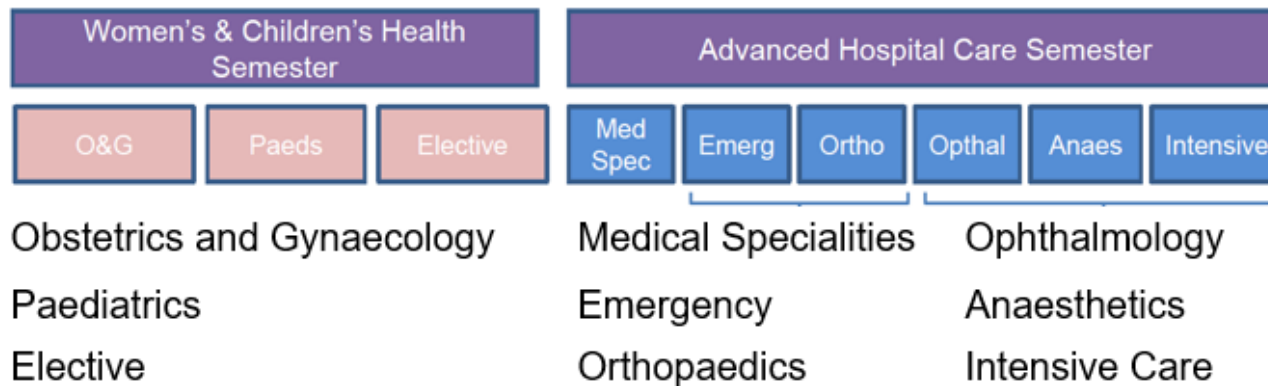

Module 2 – Placement Blocks

What are the Placement Blocks for Year 4 Students?

The Placement blocks that Year 4 students will complete are:

Note: You can preference on which block you undertake your elective. The order of the Placements within each Semester will all depend on which Pathway you have been allocated. Students are not able to preference on placement block order, only PLC block.

Module 2 Clinical Unit Preferencing

Who preferences on Clinical Units?

Both year 3 and year 4 students will preference on Clinical Units. This will be done once each year.

Why is preferencing done on Clinical Units?

Preferencing is done on Clinical Units because they are geographically dispersed, and we recognise that some units will be more accessible than others to you. We also preference by clinical unit to ensure continuity of location; this will allow you to complete placements at major and peripheral hospitals that form part of the Clinical Unit to which you have been allocated.

Clinical Unit Preferencing – Key Information

In the Placements system, Clinical Units will not be shown directly, but will be represented by the Home Hospital that is associated with the Clinical Unit. In order to complete Clinical Unit Preferencing in the system, you will need to preference on the corresponding Home Hospital shown below.

Clinical Unit you wish to attend	Home Hospital you should select within the preferencing system
RCS Bundaberg	Bundaberg Hospital
RCS Hervey Bay	Hervey Bay Hospital
RCS Rockhampton	Rockhampton Hospital
RCS Toowoomba	Toowoomba Hospital
Ipswich Clinical Unit	Ipswich Hospital
Royal Brisbane Clinical Unit	Royal Brisbane and Women's Hospital

Clinical Unit Preferencing – Key Information

What is a Home Hospital?

A Home Hospital is the hospital of a given site in which you will spend the longest period of time in clinical placements over the year.

Will I be allocated more than one Home Hospital?

No, each student will be allocated one Home Hospital based on the Clinical Unit preferences you submit.

Will I have to attend other Hospitals?

Yes. Part of your allocation to a given Clinical Unit will involve placements at hospitals or facilities other than your home hospital. Please see the offerings documents for Year 3 and Year 4, which outline all possible offerings of clinical placements, and shows the percentage of times spent at each hospital or location in each pathway.

Module 2

3rd Year Preferencing

3rd Year Preferencing – Key Information

Module 3 – Understanding Your Allocation

Terminology used in placement allocations

- Clinical Unit – a discrete organisational unit within the Faculty containing one or more teaching hospitals (e.g. PA-Southside, Mater, Northside, Toowoomba)
- Home Hospital - the hospital at a given clinical unit in which you will spend the longest period of time in clinical placements over the year (e.g. PA, Mater, Redcliffe, Toowoomba)
- Pathway – a particular combination of placement offerings in the year that is selected by a student in the placement process. A pathway will be a combination of clinical unit and semester order (Year 3), or clinical unit and elective placement block order (Year 4). A pathway may contain between 2 and 36 placement offerings, depending on the size of the clinical unit
- Placement offering - One of ~400+ distinct sequences of clinical placements and sites within the year. Each student will be allocated a single placement offering for the whole year.
- Allocation – the placement offering allocated to a student as a result of the preferencing process

Understand Your Allocation

What is my Allocation?

Your allocation is the placement offering which you will be undertaking throughout the year.

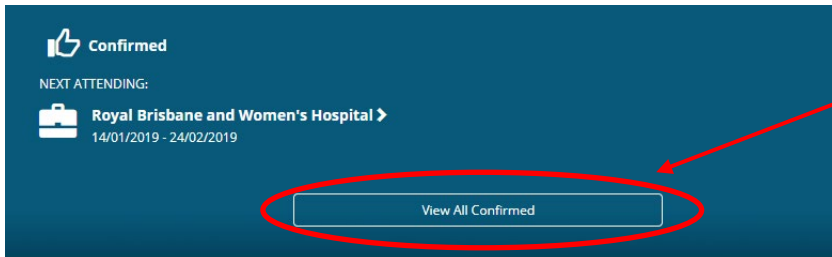

Where can I see my allocation?

Your allocation will be visible in the Placements system

Once you have been allocated a placement offering, the first Clinical Placement will appear in the confirmed pane on the Placements Home screen
