Do you have students interested in studying medicine?

Your students can now complete their entire medical degree in the Central Queensland-Wide Bay region thanks to the Regional Medical Pathway. The Regional Medical Pathway (RMP) is a community of educators, learners, mentors, clinicians and advocates committed to improving regional, rural and remote health by nurturing and inspiring the next generation of doctors. It is a community supported, end-to-end pathway for the education and training of future regional, rural and remote doctors and is designed to address workforce shortages in the Central Queensland and Wide Bay regions.

The University of Queensland is delivering the event on behalf of the Regional Medical Pathway, which is a collaboration between CQUniversity, The University of Queensland, Wide Bay Hospital and Health Service, and the Central Queensland Hospital and Health Services.
